WINS DELAY IN COURT; LAWYER TO DEFEND HIM

No Mob Violence on His Arrival.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—William Edward Hickman, confessed slayer of 12 year old Marian Parker, expects to go to the gallows for the crime, he admitted to officers early this morning.

His confession was made without any promise of immunity, Chief of Detectives Herman Cline said today.

Hickman himself in an interview today said that he had reconciled himself to death at the hands of the state and that he will not repudiate his confession.

Attorney on Way.

An attorney, Jerome Walsh of Kansas City, who was retained by the youth's mother to represent her son in court, is on his way here. Pending his arrival the arraignment of Hickman has been delayed.

Hickman was taken from his cell into the courtroom of Judge Carlos P. Hardy this morning. The formalities were brief. The court asked Hickman for his name and after he had answered "District Attorney Asa Keyes arose."

"Your honor," he said, "I have just been informed that an attorney is on his way here from Kansas City to represent the defendant. I ask that his arraignment be delayed until Thursday."

The plea was granted and Hickman was led back to his cell.

Hickman is interviewed.

Here it was that newspaper men were granted the right to talk to the slayer, whose cool confession of the deliberate murder of a little girl has shocked the nation.

"I would like to see Marian's father," the 19 year old youth said in beginning his interview. "I would like to tell him just why I killed Marian."

Then he went on:

"I'll have to take my medicine, I guess. I'll plead guilty and stand by my confession."

Will Take Consequences.

"You are willing to take the consequences based on this confession—whatever they are?" he was asked.

"Sure."

Hickman was asked what he thought of his mother's retaining Attorney Walsh and sending Walsh from Kansas City to aid him.

"I did not expect it," he said. "I don't want her to send me a lawyer if it costs her any money."

"Suppose your attorney advises you to plead not guilty and ask for a trial?"

"I would plead guilty anyhow. I want a speedy trial." His face twitched. "But not too speedy," he added.

"I thought they were going to rush me right through a trial today."

Fear Mob Violence.

Every effort has been and is being made to guard the youthful slayer from both mob violence and suicide.

This morning when he was taken from the special car in which he was brought here from Pendleton, where he was arrested last Thursday, he was placed in a police automobile and rushed to the county jail.

Hundreds of persons had gathered at the jail and it was at first feared that the crowd might attempt to take Hickman from the two detectives to whom he was handcuffed. Because of this the prisoner was taken to a side entrance of the building and locked in a cell. The crowd did not see him and later was dispersed.

Fights in His Cell.

The size and temper of the crowd frightened Hickman and the excitement caused him to faint when he was placed in his cell.

Hickman was placed in one of the cells reserved for major criminals. Only one prisoner is kept in each cell, and in Hickman's case, Jailer Frank Dewar has assigned constant day and night guards to watch him. Hickman is not to be allowed to come out of his cell and mingle with other prisoners in the "main tank" as other prisoners are.

Jailer Dewar said that the guard was intended both for Hickman's protection against attacks by fellow prisoners, and as a safeguard against a suicide attempt.

Although Hickman's confession stated that he had strangled Marian Parker, it is believed that he was aided by another person.

These, together with Chief Hughes' demand for 3,000 new policemen and Fire Commissioner Goodrich's demand for 1,000 new firemen, will be taken up after Feb. 1, when the board of review completes its figures on the quadrennial tax valuations. City Controller Philip Morris estimated that the increase in revenue from this source would be approximately $5,000,000, while several aldermen believe it will run up to $6,000,000 or $7,000,000. The size of the supplemental budget will depend on this increase.

Adjournment of the committee this morning ended a series of day and night meetings for nearly four weeks on the corporate fund budget. The aldermen have yet to draft the smaller water, vehicle tax, and harbor fund budgets. These, it was predicted, will be finished before the end of the week.

A LITTLE BROTHER OF THE MONROE DOCTRINE

O.K. Budget of $59,200,000; Up to Council

Chicago's municipal budget for 1928, totaling $59,200,000, was completed by the city council's finance committee early this morning after a hectic night session lasting nearly seven hours. It will go to the council for final approval a week from today.

In order to keep within the city controller's estimate of revenues, the aldermen cut nearly $1,000,000 out of the appropriations during the last two hours. Bitter debates deadlocked the committee every few minutes, but the final roll call was unanimous, in contrast to the corresponding session last year, when the committee went to the council floor divided over police and fire salary raises.

"I am more than pleased with the job," announced Chairman John J. Clark, "and I feel the taxpayers will be satisfied. We were unusually short money but, nevertheless, have not over-appropriated a single cent."

Some of the slashes.

Major items lopped off last night included $100,000 for snow removal; $50,000 for bridge repairs; $100,000 for the fund for interest on tax anticipation warrants; $75,000 for the corporation counsel's office, and $160,000 for miscellaneous public benefits. A total of $125,000 was saved by cutting the number of street flushers to be purchased from 25 to 10 and another $60,000 by reducing council committee appropriations.

A $30,000 appropriation for a separate bureau of smoke control was left intact. All allotments for additional employees also remained over the protest of Ald. R. A. Woodhull, who was overruled by Mayor Thompson's forces.

Municipal Court Judges Win.

Early in the session the committee voted to defy the judges of the Municipal court and refuse to allow 25 new deputy bailiffs as requested, although the law makes the court appropriations mandatory on the council. The deputies, it was charged, will be named by Judge Thompson judges, who had threatened to start mandatory proceedings if they were eliminated. Just before the session closed word went around that the committee's action would anger the mayor and the jobs were reinstated.

Items of $300,000 to complete the new police and court building and $100,000 to pay the city's share of railroad over the Illinois Central railroad were deferred to the supplemental budget.

Police and Firemen Up Later.

These, together with Chief Hughes' demand for 3,000 new policemen and Fire Commissioner Goodrich's demand for 1,000 new firemen, will be taken up after Feb. 1, when the board of review completes its figures on the quadrennial tax valuations. City Controller Philip Morris estimated that the increase in revenue from this source would be approximately $5,000,000, while several aldermen believe it will run up to $6,000,000 or $7,000,000. The size of the supplemental budget will depend on this increase.

Planes Aid 100 Boys in Search for 2 Hunters

One hundred Boy Scouts, two airplanes, coast guard boats and the full resources of the police of all north shore towns were enlisted yesterday in a search for two duck hunters who left Glencoe early Monday morning and have been missing since.

Last night no trace of the pair, Alexander Matland, 25 years old, and his brother-in-law, Robert Case, 14 years old, had been found, and it was announced that a tug would be engaged today to sweep the lake for several miles out.

Matland, whose home is at 213 East Huron street, is the son of Alexander F. Matland, wealthy resident of Neenah, Wis. He was a student at Lake Forest college in 1926, and on Jan. 1 of this year was married to Miss Marjorie Case, a co-ed, the step-daughter of E. F. Smith of 106 Park avenue, Glencoe. The couple were spending the holidays at the Smith home.

Scouts Hunt in Vain.

When the young man and the boy left the home at 7 a. m. Monday they promised to return in time for breakfast at 9 o'clock. They had shotguns with them and hoped to shoot a duck or two.

Matland wore a raccoon coat and carried about $100 in his pockets. For this reason it was suspected at first that robbers might have waylaid the pair. The Boy Scouts, separating into details of three, searched the Skokie marshes without result and the theory generally accepted last night was that they had gone out in a boat and been drowned.

This was strengthened by the fact that a boat usually tied near the Glencoe pumping station was missing. This boat was a flat bottomed scow and the police pointed out that high seas with the strong off shore breeze could easily have upset it.

Planes Cover Water.

The airplanes for the search were engaged by the Commonwealth Edison company which employs Smith as a superintendent of sub-stations. Pilot William Stevert asserted that he had covered the lake from Evanston to Waukegan five miles out and had found nothing.

The police, aided by the Boy Scouts, dragged the shore for several miles each way from Glencoe, with similar lack of success. On Monday night searchlights were used to examine the shore line.

"I don't think it possible they could have broken through the ice and drowned," said Jacob Rudolph, the Glencoe chief of police. "If they had, this search would have located the bodies. It looks almost certain that they were drowned far out in the lake, or perhaps they are still alive and adrift on their solitary voyage."

Beer Runner Shot to Death In Roadhouse

Beer gang warfare broke out anew early this morning when five or six men burst into "Bob's Lone Tree Tavern," a road house on Milwaukee avenue, just south of Oakton street, a half mile north of Niles, and shot Charles Miller, said to be a beer runner, to death without giving him a chance. A hat bearing a bullet hole far down on the left side that was found on the floor caused police to believe that one of the attacking gang had been accidentally shot by one of his pals during the fusillade.

Miller was in the place with Robert Preibus, the proprietor, and four other men shortly before 3 o'clock. Miller was standing nearest to the street entrance. Suddenly the door was thrown open and the slayers, each with a revolver in hand, appeared. Without a word they all opened fire on Miller, who fell to the floor with seven bullet wounds. Thirty-five or forty shots were fired by the assailants.

Assassins Rush Away.

Then as suddenly as they appeared the assassins rushed from the place without attempting to harm either of the other men. Dr. Edward Miera of Des Plaines was hastily summoned, but Miller was dead when the physician reached the tavern.

Chief James L. Devereux and Lieut. Lester Laird of the county highway police immediately began a hunt for the slayers. Preibus, William Peters, his manager, and others in the place were questioned but could give no clue to the identity of the slayers.

Preibus told the police Miller was a beer runner and advanced the theory that he had been making sales in territory claimed by others. A card in Miller's pocket indicated his address was 4550 Lincoln avenue.

Wounded Man Taken to Hospital.

An hour after the shooting a man identified by papers in his pocket as John Davis, living at the Norford hotel, 1605 North Crawford avenue, was taken into the University hospital by two men and laid upon the floor of the lobby. They told Miss Aileen Gilmore, night attendant, the man had been hurt in an automobile accident, and that they would go out and bring in his hat and coat. They left and did not return. It was found Davis had a bullet hole in his left temple and probably will die.

Two physicians summoned by mysterious telephone calls stating they were wanted on an automobile case at the University hospital, appeared shortly after the two men left. They were Dr. Lester Omer, 1605 West Madison street, and Dr. Adolph Kraft, 1605 West Van Buren street. Dr. Omer identified Davis as a man he recently treated for alcoholism at the Norford hotel.

Chief Devereux hastened to the hospital with the hat found on the floor of the Tavern in an endeavor to learn whether there might be a connection between the two shootings.

BOMB DAMAGES GROSSMAN STORE ON ROOSEVELT RD.

Another bomb attributed to labor terrorists was exploded early this morning at the entrance of the Grossman shoe company's store at 3355 West Roosevelt road and caused damage estimated at $15,000. The explosion blew out the show windows in front and wrecked the frame work and doors. Several windows in other establishments near by were shattered.

Lieut. Al Hoffman and his squad, and Sgt. Fred Joiner and his squad were near by when they heard the blast and hastened to the place. No one was seen leaving the scene, however, and it is supposed the bomb was exploded by a time device.

On Dec. 14 an effort was made to blow up the Grossman store at 16 East Randolph street, but failed. A dynamite bomb was found in the doorway, while the store was filled with shoppers. The fuse had been ignited but had gone out before the fire reached the explosive. At that time Frank Grossman said that he had refused the plea of George Thomas, business agent of the Chicago Retail Shoe Store Clerks' union to unionize his clerks, and he attributed the bombing to that fact.

BULLETIN.

VALBUENA FLYING FIELD, MEXICO CITY, Dec. 28.—[AP.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off at 6:35 a. m., (Central Standard time), today for Guatemala City, Guatemala, the first stop of his Central American goodwill flight, and his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh hopped off at 6:56 a. m., on the first lap of her return trip to Detroit.

Seven Mexican army planes hopped off immediately after Col. Lindbergh. Five will escort him about 50 miles. Two intend to accompany him to the Guatemalan border. When he arrived at the field he was accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh, Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador, and Mrs. Morrow and members of the staff of the embassy. Both the Spirit of St. Louis and the plane for Mrs. Lindbergh were ready on their arrival on the field.

BY ARTHUR BEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—President Calles has backed down and the Coolidge administration has won a signal victory in the petroleum and alien land law controversy with the Mexican government.

This is the significance of the intelligence from Mexico City that the Mexican house of deputies has passed a bill at the instance of President Calles wiping out the provision requiring owners of oil lands acquired prior to May 1 well drilling by American companies which acquired their properties prior to 1917 but had declined to exchange their fee simple titles for fifty year terminable concessions.

It was pointed out, however, that under Mexican law a law is not nullified until the Supreme court has held it invalid in five decisions. Calles did not wait for five decisions before yielding to the contentions of the American state department. For his backdown he attempts to save his face with the statement that unless the fifty year concession provision is wiped out oil companies protected by the Supreme court decision will enjoy rights not enjoyed by those companies which relinquished them when they complied with the law.

Although news dispatches from Mexico City attribute the action of Calles to the friendly relations established by Morrow and Lindbergh, there is ample ground for the belief that the Mexican president was forced to take the step by the virtual state of bankruptcy of the Mexican government.

Nation Almost Bankrupt.

Calles, after three years of the rule of the proletariat, is unable to make both ends meet, and is sending a financial mission to New York City to lay the state of the Mexican government finances before the international committee of bankers who hold Mexico in pawn. Mexico is due to pay this committee $50,000,000 on the service of her external debt, and Calles does not see where he is going to scrape up the cash.

The financial plight of the Calles government is due to rising expenditures and declining revenues. There has been great extravagance in administration, due in no small part to the looting of the Mexican treasury by the Calles crowd for a multitude of pro-letarian projects. The agrarian policy has been exceedingly costly. But the solar plexus blow to Mexican finances was the decline of the revenue from petroleum production, which in a few years has fallen off more than 60 per cent.

Oil Operations Closed Down.

Hit by the confiscatory oil land laws the American and other foreign oil companies were compelled to shut down operations. The production and export of oil slumped tremendously at once and was followed by unemployment in the oil fields. The taxes collected on oil exports had constituted a large part of Mexican government revenues, and when these taxes fell off with the decline of production Calles felt the financial pinch.

Calles Forced to Turn.

At last it became apparent that if the oil revenues were to be regained it would be necessary to reestablish oil production on its former scale. The action of Calles in effecting a restoration of rights to the foreign oil companies is expected to result in their return to Mexico and resumption of operations. Oregon, who is slated to succeed Calles, is believed to have had a hand in the step taken by Calles, for otherwise Oregon when elected president next year will inherit from Calles a bankrupt treasury.

Of course, the action of Calles does not mean the settlement of the entire controversy with Mexico over the oil and alien land laws. He is wiping out only one confiscatory provision. His action does not touch the provisions requiring foreigners to relinquish to Mexican control of stock companies, forbidding them to bequest property to heirs and other provisions attacked by the American government as retroactive and confiscatory. The fifty year concession provision, however, is the only one the Mexican government so far has carried into effect.

LINDY WILL LEAVE MEXICO TODAY FOR CENTRAL AMERICA

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—All the airplanes of the Mexican army will escort Col. Charles A. Lindbergh for a considerable distance tomorrow as he bids good-by to Mexico. It is announced officially that he will take his leave for Guatemala at 9 a. m. However, if the weather is favorable he may hop off earlier.

All Mexico City is preparing to be at Valbuena air field to bid Lindbergh good-bye. By orders of the war department two battalions of infantry will maintain order and, aided by mounted police, foot police, and motorcycle squads, will keep the public off the field and give not only Col. Lindbergh but the numerous Mexican planes under the command of Col. Samuel Rojas plenty of room for action.

On the way to Guatemala Col. Lindbergh will fly over two of the largest southern Mexican cities, Puebla and Oaxaca.

Today Col. Lindbergh took up former President Alvaro Obregon in a three propeller Ford plane.

Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh announced this morning that she will return home with the same pilots who brought her here and will leave here five minutes after her son departs for the south.

ing to find a way out of the tangle of the last three years are credited with the feeling of extreme hope which has taken possession of Mexico since the arrival of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The feeling was heightened today when the efforts the government is making to meet the interest on the public debt were announced. These consist of the dedication of the total petroleum income, estimated at 20,000,000 pesos ($10,000,000), 15,000,000 pesos ($7,500,000) ordinary income of the government, and all income over and above the 200,000,000 pesos ($100,000,000) budget for the coming year.

Government Is Hopeful.

The government is hopeful, according to the statement of a high official today, that the income will be much greater in 1928 than this year, because of the attempts by President Calles to disentangle the international skein. The ban on foreigners coming into Mexico has been removed, which is expected to encourage tourists. Congress, in a bill presented by President Calles himself, is asked to remove the disabilities on the oil men and facilitate the exploitation of oil. It is expected to attract foreign capital to Mexico. It is said negotiations are under way to settle the Catholic controversy and pave the way for the reopening of Catholic churches throughout Mexico.

With the arrival here yesterday of R. H. Murray, representative of the Bank of Mexico in New York, the story was renewed that Wall street is interested and will extend Mexico a loan in return for a twenty-five year lease on the Bank of Mexico.

VATICAN BARES PERSECUTIONS IN MEXICO, CHINA

Catholic Press to Print Priests' Letters.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

(Copyright, 1927, by The Chicago Tribune.)

ROME, Dec. 27.—Declaring the condition of priests and Sisters of Charity herded in Mexican concentration camps is worse than that which caused armed intervention by the United States in Cuba thirty years ago, the Vatican state department today began an active campaign to arouse the temporal powers of the world to intervene and prevent the persecution of priests in Mexico and China.

The campaign, which is to be led by the Vatican organ Osservatore Romano, follows the pope's Christmas allocution to the college of car-

URGE 2,000 VETERANS TO FILE CLAIMS FOR U. S. BONUS INSURANCE

Two thousand Illinois veterans who were wounded in overseas service during the world war have failed to file claims for federal insurance bonus awards, according to Nicholas O. Isaacson, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

Under a ruling by the war department, men who do not have their claims in the mails and postmarked before midnight next Saturday are barred from getting their awards.

"There are many reasons why these wounded men, some of whom are in hospitals, have failed to come forward," said Mr. Isaacson. "There is still time. Every ex-service man who can should get his application in at once."

inals, in which the pontiff expressed wonderment that Christian nations allowed the Mexican and Chinese atrocities to go on. Pope Pius is known to be grievously distressed as a result of the letters he has just received both from China and Mexico, which, it is believed, caused his outspokenness in his Christmas speech.

Priests' Letters.

Osservatore Romano today begins the lengthy publication of documents describing Mexican conditions which were printed in Washington in the National Catholic Welfare council news sheet on Dec. 13 and now are being reproduced here. The documents are letters received from priests. Commenting on them, Osservatore Romano says: "These letters, coming from all parts of the country, tell of a priest being hanged, a sister shot, another sister being given to soldiers, a village burned, and a concentration camp in which conditions are worse than the conditions that caused the intervention of the United States in Cuba."

The paper then describes how religious rites must be practiced secretly and refers to "the insensate system of terror of the present government."

Urges Catholics to Action.

The Vatican organ also finds a long article describing the findings of the inquest made by a missionary in the province of Honan, China, where there was a duplication of the atrocities by the Chinese bandits, says Osservatore Romano.

Osservatore Romano's articles are to be reproduced in all Catholic papers throughout the world, and it is believed that special church organizations will be instructed to arouse the conscience of the world against the persecutions.

MAN WHO GAINED MEXICAN 'PROOF' CALLED A FAKER

Witness Says Avila Provided Frauds.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP.)

Miguel Avila, procurer of the Mexican documents published in Hearst newspapers, was described to the senate investigating committee today as a "notorious purveyor of documents" by Frank Y. McLaughlin, civil engineer of Mexico City.

McLaughlin, who said he knew nothing of the papers published in the Hearst papers purporting to show creation of a $1,215,000 fund for four United States senators, told the investigating committee that Avila had peddled "twenty or thirty worthless documents" to him, including one purporting to have come from the American embassy.

Fall to Local Witnesses.

Avila was missing today, although he had been asked by Senator Reed (Rep., Pa.), chairman of the committee, to be present. McLaughlin also made the request that Avila be present when he told his story, but attempts to reach him were unsuccessful and the committee adjourned until Jan. 4.

The American embassy document, McLaughlin said, was brought to him by Avila in Mexico City. McLaughlin then was vice president of the El Sol Petroleum company, which has a contract with the Mexican government. It consisted of a single typewritten sheet of American embassy stationery offering to disclose for $15,000 with $1,000 down what transactions Secretary Kellogg and the American state department today declined to discuss.

Although the paper was not shown to the American embassy, McLaughlin said he did not believe the story and told him so.

Deny Late Charges.

That Lane had any part in the scheme was denied on behalf of the state department today, although the department itself declined to discuss the story with a formal denial. Lane now is chief of the Mexican affairs division of the department.

McLaughlin, whose home is in the city of Philadelphia, testified he had stated several private conversations with the Mexican government and a $15,000 advance payment on one of them. He volunteered his information to the committee, he said, "to show my part in the true light." He and Lane, on friendly terms so far as he knows, were in talking of making loans to Avila.

LAW BREAKING PERILS AMERICA, WILKERSON SAYS

S. Judge Also Attacks
Advised Statutes.

America's disrespect for law threatens to bring this republic crumbling from its high peak of prosperity. That is the warning delivered tonight by Judge James H. Wilkerson, chief of the Illinois State's Attorneys' association at the Palmer hotel.

More important than any problem of finance or industry, or foreign relations, or agriculture is the grave question whether we shall enforce our laws, the judge said. "Upon that hinges the question of whether the nation shall endure."

His ideas of Law Breaking.
Laws forced by reformers and propagandists upon the country without regard to the ability of the government to enforce them are one of the causes of the breaking down of the law, Judge Wilkerson found. Big game has trampled upon laws which hampered or impeded the race for money, he said.

"The attitude toward law of leaders of industry and finance during almost every year of development is only too well known. They sowed the winds and we're reaping the whirlwinds," Judge Wilkerson observed. "I would point out also as a contributing cause to our condition the ineptitude of the courts. There is too much delay. There are too many technicalities. There is a lamentable lack of independence on the part of the judiciary."

Plugging Laws to Destroy.
"Consider the conduct of our so-called good citizens, who are for the law as long as it doesn't interfere with their own pleasures—and desires. Those who advocate the doctrine of nullifying laws merely because they think they are unjust, are enemies of the republic government. That doctrine has no place in this country. There was a time when respect for all laws was fundamental and sacred. Is that true today? We know it is not. Our criminals of today would make the deeds of the James boys look like petty larceny. People have come generally to believe that the law has been broken down in this country."

Statute Books Cluttered.
"What can we do about it?"
"We can be more careful in passage of laws. We can repeal those which clutter up the statute books, hiding in their mass the important laws. We can improve the condition of our courts, simplify procedure, remove delay."

"Life, property and prosperity are really dependent on the proper observance and execution of law, and it is thus the Americans awake to the fact that the statute books are cluttered up with laws which are obsolete and which are a hindrance to the progress of the nation. We must improve the condition of our courts, simplify procedure, remove delay."

Call Jurors Sentimental.
"We lawyers, judges and prosecutors must strive to induce our legislators to amend the jury law, so that our powers may be given judges. Jurors often are swayed by sentiment. It seems to bear no responsibility to the public," he said.

Recently a jury heard eight eye-witnesses testify to seeing a murder. They went out and in two hours returned with a verdict. Must we have more pictures taken when a crime is committed to convince a jury of its guilt?"

Nevertheless, we are a healthy community as far as the condition of the criminal court docket is concerned. The clerk's office advised me today that every case, old and new, returned by grand juries prior to Dec. 1 is on the call and ready for trial. We could clean up them all in sixty days if for some reason the grand jury stopped working."

Carlstrom Asks Better Work.
Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom in his afternoon session asked the state's attorneys to prepare and try cases more carefully. Lack of such care, he declared, was the cause of many reversals of convictions by higher courts. He declared:

"Cases would not be reversed so easily if more care were used by the prosecutors in proving venue and other details of a criminal case."
Reversal of cases destroys the confidence of the citizens in the courts. Convictions are made to stick we lose a reduction of crime committed."

State Senator James J. Barbour spoke of the abuse of the habeas corpus writ and termed the recent release of a murderer on such a writ "an outrageous situation." He did not refer to the case by name, but apparently was speaking of the recent release of Judge Charles A. Williams of Joliet. Chapman was freed because the court record failed to show that he was guilty of a crime.

Condemns Jury Dodgers.
Charles W. Hadley, assistant attorney general and former state's attorney at Du Page county, spoke on the use of habeas corpus to protect criminals and also criticized the shirking of jury duty by responsible citizens. He said that put inferior persons on too many juries.

Representation of the state in the criminal court where the future of children is involved was advocated by Frederick C. Walter Reed of Du Page county, president of the association. Proper supervision would stop crime among the young, he said.

John D. and Old Pal Fall Out Over Golf Game

SO SIGNAL AGAIN REPORTED; MAY BE LOST PLANE

Message Asks Aid in Getting Bearings.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The dirigible Los Angeles arrived over the field at 11:46 tonight on her return from a cruise in the direction of Sable Island in search of the plane Dawn.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—The Western Union Cable office here has received the following message from the submarine cable landing station at Hearts Content, on Trinity bay on the opposite side of Newfoundland from Harbor Grace, destination of the Grayden plane:
"One of our operators, Hilliard, picked up a call yesterday afternoon signed W., next letter unreadable but sounding like P or figure 6, then letter U. This call was 'where are we?' Can you locate us?' and was repeated every three or four minutes for nearly one-half hour and sounded loud on the set. We don't know whether it was the Dawn or not. If so, she must have been very close, as the signals, Hilliard said, were the loudest he ever heard."

No Sign of Plane.
Aboard the U. S. Destroyer Sturtevant, in North Atlantic, Dec. 27.—[By radio to the Associated Press.]—Search along a 32 mile lane off the eastern coast of Nova Scotia up to 11 o'clock tonight had failed to reveal any trace of the missing amphibian plane Dawn, in which Mrs. Francis Wilson Grayson and three companions took off from Long Island Friday for Harbor Grace, N. F.

AT 88 ROCKEFELLER LEARNS HIS WEAKNESS AT GOLF; WINS MATCH

Ormond Beach, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, at the age of 88, has discovered his greatest weakness in golf—he stands too close to his ball.

He had a chance to correct this today in a close six hole match with his old friend, Gen. Adelbert Ames, 91, and despite the fact that he lost a nickel "bet" on his ability to make a certain difficult shot, he won from the civil war veteran, one up.

The match would have gone farther, but the general's ire became aroused when the oil magnate won the sixth hole. After Mr. Rockefeller had counted up the score, Mr. Ames bundled his clubs into his automobile and drove off, shouting as he departed.

"An honest man hasn't got any chance in this game anyway," Mr. Rockefeller said.

Mr. Rockefeller experienced a well played round, managing to get an average drive of a hundred yards for the six holes. Once he was on the green in one, his tee shot sailed 165 yards. This brought a joyous "Yoi, yoi, yoi!" from him which caused Gen. Ames to burst into laughter.

yard of the Atlantic, that turbulent stretch of water around Sable Island, N. S., failed to divulge today whether or not it had added to its list of victims the name of Mrs. Francis Wilson Grayson and her three man crew of the amphibian plane Dawn.

All day the navy dirigible Los Angeles sailed above the waves, two navy destroyers and three coast guard destroyers plowed through them, but no sign was seen of the missing plane.

Last Friday evening Mrs. Grayson, hopped off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., with Oskar Omdal, pilot; Brice Goldsborough, navigator, and Fred Koehler, engine expert. Two hours later they were heard passing over Cape Cod. From the time they left Cape Cod until Sunday night, more than forty-eight hours, no word was heard of the flyers. Then the Canadian government wireless station at Sable Island reported by their police today, while sixty-five persons were receiving treatment in alcoholic wards of city hospitals, whose officials said this number was not abnormal and that most of the cases were due to excessive liquor rather than wood alcohol.

The Los Angeles reported by wireless that it covered an area sixty miles wide and saw nothing. The destroyers requested the Sable Island operator to give them the weather since Christmas eve, so that they might estimate drift and include in their search area the waters into which the plane might have been washed by wind and wave after landing.

BEITLER FREES
DRIVER WHO FLED
BULLETS OF DRY

Clinton Straussen, arrested by prohibition agents recently when he was alleged to have delivered a quantity of liquor to the Chicago club at Michigan avenue and Van Buren street, was freed yesterday by United States Commissioner Henry C. Beitler.

Straussen was arrested after an automobile chase south on Michigan avenue during which prohibition Agent William Connors fired several shots at Straussen. Connors is under suspension pending an investigation of the shooting.

Commissioner Beitler ruled that the dry agents had failed to prove that Straussen was delivering liquor to the club, as they failed to produce the liquor evidence in court.

FINDS FATHER DEAD IN HOME.
Dominick Zito, 65, of 1181 Milton avenue, was found dead in his basement flat last night when his son, Paul, went to learn why he had not gone to his Christmas dinner with his daughter, Mrs. Mary Baranog, 924 Fullerton avenue. Zito is believed to have been dead since Friday.

WET REGIME IN ONTARIO CUTS YULETIDE DRUNKS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 27.—Government controlled liquor sales worked splendidly in Ontario over the Christmas holidays, when it was conceded the good judgment of the people in the use of the wet privilege received its greatest test. Sixty-four persons were brought into police court in Toronto, the largest Ontario city, the day after Christmas for drunkenness. Proportionately small numbers were reported in smaller cities. The number of drunkenness cases on this first wet Christmas Ontario has had since 1915 was even less than during prohibition days, despite pre-Christmas distribution of $1,000,000 worth of liquor. Attorney General Price said tonight that so far as official knowledge went the laws were observed. Ontario's liquor laws permit drinking in a restaurant hotel room but not over a restaurant table.

New York's Holiday Rum Deaths Total Fourteen

New York, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Fourteen deaths from alcoholism since Friday were reported by the police today, while sixty-five persons were receiving treatment in alcoholic wards of city hospitals, whose officials said this number was not abnormal and that most of the cases were due to excessive liquor rather than wood alcohol.

GIRL KEPT ALIVE BY ARTIFICIAL BREATH DIES AFTER 37 DAYS

Oconto, Neb., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The stubborn fight to save the life of Alma Overgard, 16 year old high school girl, who lived for thirty-seven days through the aid of artificial respiration, ended today. The girl died at 1:30 o'clock this morning, conscious to the end.

Falling since Christmas day, the girl's strength was almost gone last night. She no longer joked with her parents, and for the first time complained she was in pain.

Death ended a battle wherein friends and relatives day and night assisted in artificial respiration, alternately pressing the girl's body and raising and lowering her arms. There was no respite until death came.

At the bedside were the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Overgard. Steve Overgard, an uncle, was bending over the child pressing air in and out of her lungs and whispering encouragement to her when she died.

Alma did not know she was dying, and those making the fight to save her life did not tell her.

More than a month ago the child was stricken with paralysis. A twin sister was ill at the same time, but recovered.

ESSER'S THEFTS TOTAL $530,000, COURT IS TOLD

Ex-Banker Expected to Learn Fate Saturday.

John L. Esser, former head of the Aurora Trust and savings bank, will know his fate on Saturday, it was predicted yesterday following his arraignment before Circuit Judge John K. Newhall at Geneva on seventeen indictments charging embezzlement and forgery. Esser pleaded guilty to four of the embezzlement charges.

After listening to the testimony of State Auditor Oscar Nelson, which revealed that Esser's alleged peculations exceeded $530,000 instead of $300,000, as was at first supposed, Judge Newhall suspended further action until Dec. 31. Others who testified were Ben F. Alchutier, vice president, and Charles Day, cashier of the bank which has since been consolidated with another Aurora bank.

In Jail Since October.

Esser has been in a cell of the Kane

ATTACKS GOVERNMENT EMPLOYMENT METHOD; OUTLINES ECONOMIES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Attacking government employment methods as often wasteful and inefficient, Fred Telford, director of the bureau of public personnel administration, today urged the combination of the twenty separate federal agencies now handling government personnel into a single organization.

Mr. Telford, whose organization is not connected with the government, delivered his criticism of the present personnel system before the American Association of Labor Legislation, one of the council of seventeen learned societies which began a four day session here today.

"There is too much overlapping, duplication of effort, and inefficiency in the present system of handling the government's personnel," Mr. Telford said.

county jail since his arrest last October. He sat with his guard in court, apparently taking little interest in the proceedings. His hands at times were observed to tremble as he listened to the stories from the witness stand of the reputedly fast and furious pace he set as a leading business man of the Fox river valley.

Neither Esser's young wife nor his three small children were in the courtroom. The former banker is 31 years old.

Auditor Nelson testified he is convinced that Esser dominated the affairs of his bank, juggling the records as he saw fit and rarely taking his subordinates into his confidence.

One Man Bank, Auditor Says.

"It was a one man bank," testified Mr. Nelson. "None of Esser's employees, in fact, apparently knew enough about banking to realize what was going on."

Harvey Gussell, counsel for Esser, declined to permit his client to take the stand, declaring Esser has already told everything in statements made to Auditor Nelson and State's Attorney Charles Abbott. A plea was made by Abbott that Esser be given the maximum penalty, which under the law would be a penitentiary sentence of from four to forty years.

STATE BLOCKS DEFENSE IN HILL MURDER TRIAL

Move to Change Plea of Not Guilty Fails.

Ottawa, Ill., Dec. 27.—The state today won the first victory in the trial of Harry Hill when Judge Jo A. Davis in the La Salle county Circuit court late today denied him the right to withdraw his plea of "not guilty" so that he might make a motion to quash the indictment charging him with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Eliza A. Hill, whose body was found buried in the basement of her Sireator home last August.

Hill was seated with his four at-

WOMAN SUES FOR PAY AS SUBJECT OF DISEASE EXPERIMENT

New York, Dec. 27.—[Special.]—Edith C. De Witt, 73 years old, president of E. C. De Witt & Co., drug and proprietary medicine firm, who died last August leaving a fortune unofficially estimated at $50,000,000, was named today in a $500,000 Supreme court suit against the estate as the maker of one of the strangest agreements ever cited in a medico-legal action.

Mrs. Max L. Brewster is the plaintiff. She alleges that Mr. De Witt, in return for using her as the subject of experiments in seeking a cure for an "infectious disease," agreed to pay her $1,000 a month for life.

Attorneys—L. O. Brown, A. H. Shay, W. C. Jones, and R. C. Osborne. His father, Dr. H. C. Hill, was seated only a few feet away.

Selection of a jury will be started tomorrow.

Prosecutor Hanson said he would content that Hill killed his eccentric mother because she protested when he wrote checks to obtain money from her bank account. Hill disappeared the day Mrs. Hill's body was found and eluded officers for two weeks. He was finally arrested in Seattle, Wash.

Under his mother's will, Hill was left an estate valued at $50,000, payable to him at the age of 25. He now is 22.

Reports from the east that Samuel Bark, a witness in the Lillendahl murder trial, would testify in the Hill case, brought from Prosecutor Hanson denial that he ever had heard of Bark.

Convictions in Criminal Court Increase in 1927

Convictions in the criminal court increased during the last year, according to the annual report of John H. Pasmore, clerk of the court, issued yesterday. Although the judges disposed of 324 fewer cases during 1927 than in 1926 the convictions show an increase of 51 over the 1926 report. Acquittals decreased in 1927, the total being 1,051 against 2,108 in 1926. Cook county sent 517 persons to the penitentiary, 296 to Pontiac reformatory, and 127 to the Bridewell.

REPORT MATE OF KAISER'S SISTER IS CRIPPLE FOR LIFE

[Chicago Tribune From Berlin.]

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—Young Alexander Subkoff, who recently married Princess Victoria Schaumburg-Lippe, sister of the former kaiser, is still in the hospital after a motorcycle accident, that he suffered lesions of the spine which condemn him to spend his life as a cripple, stretched on his back. The Bonn scandalmongers, unaware of the tragedy lurking in the background, gleefully recounted how Princess Victoria in a fit of jealousy refused to give the house keys to M. Subkoff when he insisted on the right to come and go as he pleased. She finally flung the keys at him and he departed to cool his anger, racing wildly on a motorcycle, the gossip said. The machine was wrecked when he drove into the wall of a house which he failed to see in the darkness.

TERMINABLE CAR PERMIT IS CHIEF DEMAND OF LINES

Forecast as Storm Center in Referendum Fight.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Public interest in local transportation legislation has been revived with the expression of hopes that action may be taken on the problem in a special session of the legislature.

To obtain more and faster transit legislation, the companies contend that the legislature should be convened in special session. Five bills embodying transportation legislation have been prepared by the local transportation committee of the city legal department.

The chief concern of the companies is a law permitting them to be designated as "terminable" franchisees. They have rechristened "a terminable permit." The aldermen and lawyers have copied and adopted the same. Now every one concerned with transit legislation talks about "a terminable permit."

Companies' Own Definition.

By that phrase the companies mean franchise "without limitation of time, except that the city may purchase or designate a buyer at any time." This definition can be found in Patrick J. Lucey's typed statement to the council local transportation committee on Dec. 9 last. He used the same definition in his statement to the committee that

Mr. Lucey was representing the elevated roads, but at one point in his statement he said: "If nobody objects, I am in favor of the bill, which is a grant without limitation except that the city may purchase or designate a buyer at any time." It is apparent from the statement that this is an authoritative statement of what the companies desire in their best language.

The first definition of the word "terminable" in Funk & Wagnall's dictionary is: "continuing unlimited time, destined to unlimited continuation, never-ending." On the other hand the dictionary says that "terminable" means "that which may be terminated" and that "to terminate" means "to put an end or stop to."

Danger of Confusion Seen.

A reason for directing attention to the definition of "terminable permit" is the possible confusion of the voters, in this bill, or an agreement founded upon it, is submitted to a referendum, the message to the general assembly for. Small advocated a referendum, and since in an interview has expressed his own desire. The text of the governor's message gives the impression that a referendum on the state enabling legislation, but some persons are animated that the governor will be satisfied with a referendum on the enabling legislation which will be passed as a result of the powers conferred by the enabling laws, although he has not officially said so.

Butter designed to confuse voters has been used in previous transit bodies campaigns. It is pointed out, based on experience, there is danger of confusing the word "terminable" with "perpetual," despite the sharp dictionary distinction between them.

The companies in the bill they presented to the state legislature last summer did not use the phrase "terminable permit." They utilized that phrase in conversation, argument, and in speeches. But in their bill they asked for "an indeterminate permit." That expression has been used in law of other states upon which there have been court decisions. Attorney says there is some law defining its meaning, but in a legal sense a "terminable permit" is a new term.

New Attitude on "Misuser."

The companies appear now to be asking more than they requested of the state legislature last summer in the enabling legislation which failed of passage. At that time the companies, in addition to allowing the city the power to purchase, were willing that their franchise should be terminated for "misuser or nonuser" according to law. The companies then claimed that "misuser or nonuser" have a well defined legal meaning, therefore the bill conferred a definite and usable power to forfeit a franchise.

But some aldermen and certain lawyers said that "misuser or nonuser" were indefinite legal phrases. Now, however, the companies are not asking—although given the opportunity on Dec. 9—that the aldermanic draft of enabling legislation be amended to confer upon the city the power to cancel the "terminable permit" for "misuser or nonuser, according to law."

The Companies' Argument.

The companies give plausible reasons for desiring the sort of permit requested. They complain of abuses under the present term franchise from which they want deliverance. Their method of avoiding these abuses is a "terminable permit" of their own definition.

To attract cash at reasonable rates, it is pointed out, there must be safety for the investment. The companies claim that under a permit for a fixed term of years there is the possibility that at the end of the term the authorities may refuse a new franchise, order the cars off the street, the tracks torn up, and the poles and wires torn down, leaving the investors with only a junk value for their property, with the added cost of removing it from the streets.

But even if that does not happen they contend that it is impracticable to obtain new money for extensions and improvements near the end of a franchise term, thereby curtailing, if not actually injuring, the service. They point out that under a grant for a fixed term a hostile administration may hammer the companies near the end of their franchise life until both stocks and bonds are depressed to a fraction of their real value. At the same time the properties may be in excellent shape—as are the Surface Lines—and give good service.

Twenty Years Too Short.

To have a sound investment, it is contended that all the money put in should be returned when its use is no longer desired. For each investor to get his cash out, the capital must be amortized. The capitalization it is asserted cannot be amortized in 20 years, the present legal limit of a street car franchise in Illinois. On such a limited fixed term the companies have asserted that it is impracticable to give good service at a fair dividend rate and at a reasonable rate of fare.

To obviate these difficulties, the companies desire "terminable permit without time limitation" except that the city may buy or designate a purchaser at any time.

Mr. Hewitt will discuss other phases of the transportation ordinance in future issues of The Tribune.

MICHIGAN FILES BRIEF ATTACKING HUGHES RULING

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(Special.)—Thirty-nine exceptions, disputing the findings of Charles Evans Hughes, who, as special master for the United States Supreme court, upheld Chicago's right to divert Lake Michigan water for sanitary purposes, were filed in the court today by William W. Potter, attorney general of Michigan.

Michigan, and five other lake states—Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York—were ordered by the court to file their exceptions to the Hughes report before Jan. 1, and Michigan is the first to comply.

The Michigan exceptions attack practically every major conclusion of fact and law recommended in his report by Master Hughes and reassert the common contention of all the complaining states that neither the war department nor congress has power to authorize a diversion of water from one watershed to another.

OBERTA, PINCHED AGAIN, HAS JOKE WITH DETECTIVES

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

John "Dingbat" Oberta, lieutenant of Joe Salita and one time candidate for alderman, was in a detective bureau cell again yesterday. He was found by Sgt. Edward Harder and his squad in Ruddy's soft drink parlor at 51st and Paulina streets with George Hart, 29, and Walter Smith, 20, 1454 West 51st street.

Soon after Oberta was deposited in a cell the police were notified that a writ of habeas corpus had been applied for before Chief Justice William V. Brothers of the Criminal court. The writ was not issued when the police agreed to place a charge against the men by 10 o'clock. After the night show-up, they were booked on charges of disorderly conduct and released on $100 cash bail each.

"The dog catchers just cheated you out of another pinch," was Oberta's greeting to Sgt. Harder at the time of the arrests. "Joe Salita was here, but just left to get his dog out of the dog pound."

HE PLAYS SANTA, THEN VANISHES WITH 11 YEAR GIRL

Mother Asks His Arrest for Child Stealing.

Oakland, Cal., Dec. 27.—(U.P.)—A warrant charging Robert E. McClelland, 37, with child stealing, was sworn out here today by Mrs. Anna Smith, following the disappearance of McClelland and his daughter, Evelyn Smith, 11, on Christmas day. Police declared McClelland is a former convict, released from Folsom prison last October.

Frank W. Smith, father of Evelyn, has been out of work for some time. McClelland came to the home Sunday with clothing and provisions for members of the family, which includes ten children.

Promised Aid, Took Child. Appearing to take an interest in their welfare, he said that his mother, a wealthy Pasadena resident, would find work for Smith and would like to take the eldest daughter, 14, to visit her for the holiday week. It was finally agreed that Evelyn should go, as her older sister refused, and she and McClelland left in an automobile which it has since been learned, was borrowed from his landlady. He gave Mrs. Smith a check for $125, which he said would be her husband's first month's wages when he went to work.

Find He Is Ex-Convict. Mrs. Smith learned today McClelland's mother is unknown in Pasadena, but that he has a wife and two children living there. He was not found there and the warrant for his arrest was issued. McClelland served a two year term in Folsom for forgery, the police stated, and also a term in a federal penitentiary in 1921, for desertion from the army.

67 Million Letters and Parcels Handled Here. All records for the handling of mail at the main postoffice were broken during the last Christmas rush, Postmaster Arthur C. Loeder announced yesterday. From Dec. 14 until the evening of Dec. 24, the postoffice delivered 62,000,000 pieces of mail. In the six days ending Dec. 24, 23,000 tons of mail and parcel post matter were handled, Postmaster Loeder said.

KIDNAPED TEACHER RESCUED FROM HER REJECTED SUITOR

Manly, Ia., Dec. 27.—(U.P.)—Joe Reynolds' attempt to kidnap Pauline Thompson, 30, Unionville, Mo., school teacher, ended tonight when Miss Thompson notified authorities here of her plight, and her militant lover was arrested.

Reynolds is in jail and Miss Thompson departed for Des Moines after informing her parents at Unionville that she was safe.

Reynolds had driven toward Canada after he kidnaped her at her school Monday, the teacher told authorities. When she held out in her refusal to marry him, he agreed to turn back at Ottumwa, Minn., and take her home.

They stopped here for gasoline and Miss Thompson chose to return to Missouri alone near Unionville when the kidnapping occurred. Reynolds used a revolver in kidnaping the teacher, but he offered no resistance. He will be held here awaiting expected filing of kidnapping charges in Missouri. Miss Thompson was in her school house near Unionville when the kidnapping occurred. Reynolds forced her to go with him and an extended search for the pair was instituted.

ARREST ONE, SEEK ANOTHER, ON TWO WOMEN'S CHARGES

One man was in custody and a second was being sought last night in connection with assaults upon young women. Accompanied by Sgt. Ray Gillo, Mrs. Florence Brishola, 33, of 1247 Belmont place, led the way to a luncheon at Milwaukee and Chicago avenues, where she pointed out a customer.

"He attacked me on Dec. 18 at Erie street and Racine avenue," Mrs. Brishola told Sgt. Gillo. The man, afterward identified as Joseph Romanek, 35, of 1470 Huron street, observing the girl, made a break for the door, but was captured. A revolver was found in his pocket. He denied the girl's charge.

Search was begun for an unidentified man who seized Miss Ruth Gildewell, 30, of 3343 Fulton street, a salesgirl, at Jackson boulevard and Maplewood avenue and dragged her into an oil pit at a nearby gas station. Frightened by the girl's screams, the man fled.

KIDNAP SLAYER IS SAFE IN JAIL IN LOS ANGELES

Taken Into Court, but Is Not Arraigned.

to death, Dr. Frederick Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, returned an official report today that the girl had died of fright. Dr. Wagner added that Hickman made no effort at criminal assault and did not poison nor anesthetize his victim.

Statement of Doctor. Dr. Wagner's statement follows: "I understand that Hickman stated that he strangled the little Parker girl. He may have done or attempted to do what he confessed he did, but her death was not primarily due to strangulation.

"There were no marks of constriction or constriction about the neck. The lungs were not congested, but, on the contrary, were quite pale and bloodless. The white of her eyes was not bloodshot, nor was the face bloated. There were no signs of a struggle anywhere upon the body—no contusions, lacerations, or scratches upon the hands, wrists, or elsewhere.

"I knew Marian Parker. She was a very nervous child. When she realized her situation, she probably neither slept nor partook of food during those three terrible days, as shown by her empty, contracted stomach; and from her letters written to her parents it would appear that her captor told her he would kill her if not ransomed; therefore, when he applied the towel about her neck she realized what was about to happen and her heart stopped as a result of fright and exhaustion."

Officers Are Welcomed. In comparison to the welcome to Hickman was the enthusiasm that marked the greeting given the two Pendleton officers, Chief of Police Tom Gurdane and Sgt. Buck Lisle, who captured Hickman last Thursday. The officers arrived here with the train bearing the prisoner. All along the route from Pendleton, Gurdane and Lisle were cheered whenever they made an appearance on railroad platforms or at car windows. Chief Gurdane wore the ten gallon sombrero he bought in Pendleton just before the party left.

TOUGH CAPITAL YOUTHS KIDNAP, TORTURE URGHIN

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(U.P.)—Police today were investigating the activities of three 18 year old gangsters who seized 18 year old Elmer Nash on his way home from a store, gagged him with a necktie, trussed up his legs with ropes so that they touched his head, and held him prisoner in a field for five hours before depositing him on his doorstep, half frozen.

During his five hours in captivity he was forced to "wait on" his young abductors, he told his parents, who were about to start a search when they found him on the doorstep.

U. S. Files Objections to Standard Oil Suit Finding

Legal objections were filed in the United States District court here yesterday against the report of Special Master-in-Chancery Charles Martindale of Indianapolis in which he recommended dismissal of the government's suit against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and fifty other oil concerns. The master's report, in which he found no basis for the charge that the oil companies were a monopoly, was published several days ago.

LOOP PARKING BAN GOES INTO EFFECT TUESDAY

Mayor Thompson informed city traffic officials last night that he will permit the new ordinance prohibiting parking of automobiles in the downtown area to become effective without his signature. The ordinance will be returned to the council today and then becomes the law of the loop.

The nonparking measure will go into effect Tuesday morning. Between the hours of 7 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. automobiles may not park at curbs in the area between Michigan avenue and the river to the west and between Roosevelt road and the river to the north.

A further item of $1,000,000 for wrecking, lighting, and other extensions was added to the list yesterday, bringing the total to $45,604,787. All of them must be approved by the city council.

Use of property used in improvement and to be paid for out of the bond issue, according to Mr. Faberty, follow:

1,447: Western avenue, 1,447; Halsted street, 527; La Salle street, 225; 95th street, 283; Crawford street, 374; Lincoln avenue, 191; Peterson avenue, 154; Kimbark avenue, 55. Payments for each range from $500 to $500,000.

Mr. Faberty was caustic in his criticism of the Dever administration for failure to clear up the payments promptly.

"These 4,353 pieces of property originally were valued at $29,216,178," he said, "but because of the city's slowness in paying for them the courts have lowered values and decreased assessments, making the cost almost a third higher. Had I been in charge they would have been settled long ago."

Friends of the former mayor, however, when informed of Mr. Faberty's charge, declared it to be unfair, inasmuch as the Dever board was handicapped by the city's bonding limit, which was doubled by the legislature last summer. The Deverites would have completed the improvements had the money been available, they said.

Promising Quick Action. If the proposed issues are O. K'd, Mr. Faberty said, he will have the money in the hands of the property owners and the city will take possession within sixty days, immediately wrecking the buildings, paving and sidewalk construction. As

Mark Twain once said: "Everyone complains of the weather, but nothing is done about it."

We propose to do something about it.

There has been too much good weather for the clothing trade.

Lots of men are still wearing Spring weight suits, and here we are with a lot of heavy weights—just too heavy—just heavy enough for men to wear now.

However, they're too heavy for us to keep.

So, here go some of our top-notch Rogers Peet suits into the discard.

NAMES HER NIECE AS HER RIVAL IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Laura C. Massey, 1452 Fargo avenue, yesterday named her niece, Mrs. Bernice Boyles, formerly of Brookfield, Mo., as co-respondent in a suit for divorce against Richard J. Massey, president of Massey & Massey company, 1214 Webster avenue.

The wife, who was married in 1898, alleges that her husband left her two years ago, taking her niece for a motor trip through Minnesota and Wisconsin, stopping with her in tourist camps.

The bill, filed by Attorney George L. Schein, also charges that Mr. Massey is now occupying an apartment in Chicago with his wife's relative.

Soon as this work begins, he said, he will start drafting plans for new projects to be submitted by the Chicago plan commission.

P. O. CLERKS FIND MAIL STILL SENT TO ROBEY STREET

Report Damen Avenue Addresses Are Few.

Robey street may be Damen avenue to members of the city council who voted for the change two months ago, but citizens of Chicago have practically disregarded the council's action.

Inquiry at the postoffice revealed yesterday. Almost all mail addressed to those living on the west side street retains the old name, it was found. "We get a few letters addressed to Damen avenue," said a postoffice official, "and the clerks have been instructed so that they know what Damen avenue is. But the vast proportion of the mail is addressed to Robey street. We probably will be getting Robey street mail for years and it is possible that the name of Damen avenue may never come into use."

Postal Hands Kept Off. Postoffice authorities said they will take no hand in the controversy between those merchants living on the street who wish to retain the old name and those who succeeded in having the name changed as a memorial to Father Damen, Catholic priest, whose name is associated with Chicago's early history.

"We will recognize either Robey street or Damen avenue, whichever the public chooses to observe," it was announced at the postoffice. "We certainly would not go so far as to refuse to deliver mail addressed to Robey street because the city council has changed the name." Aid. Max Adamowski (28th) declared that the fight against the name of Damen avenue had not ceased. Merchants are still considering court action on the ground that their property rights have been damaged.

High Handedness Charged. "The change was put through in a high handed manner," he declared. "The council failed to take into consideration the rights of those living on the street whose business may suffer because of the loss of the name. The name of Damen avenue will never receive popular usage and Robey street merchants will continue to advertise the fact that they do business on Robey street."

Five Fatally Burned When Kerosene Stove Explodes

Youngstown, O., Dec. 27.—A mother, her three children and their uncle were fatally burned in their home here last night when a kerosene stove exploded and trapped the victims in a hallway.

MAY PICK THIRD TO HEAR STREET CAR WAGE PLEAS

A minor crisis in the street car men's wage arbitration proceedings is expected today as a result of a scheduled conference between Vice President Richardson of the Chicago Surface Lines, arbitrator for the companies, and Aid. Oscar E. Nelson, arbitrator for the men, in Mr. Richardson's office.

This meeting may settle whether Mr. Richardson and Aid. Nelson will begin the taking of testimony or decide first to select a third arbitrator. Should a third arbitrator be deemed unnecessary, it is pointed out, the findings of Richardson and Nelson may be incorporated into agreements between the companies and the men to be made effective until June 1, 1928.

No official statement has been made by the transit interests since the decision to place the arbitration measures into the hands of Richardson and Nelson.

SEA AGAIN UP WORK WRECK OF S-4

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The second tunnel under the S-4 was halted late afternoon when a strong south wind and a choppy sea forced divers to suspend operations for the day and half commencing the second tunnel, located about 100 feet forward of the S-4's gun. Favorable weather tomorrow should complete this tunnel, then Capt. Ernest F. King, lieutenant commander Edward King, who are directing the diving work, will be able to determine the exact location of the wreck of the S-4. A third cable tunnel for a third cable will be needed for the S-4's gun. The intention of the salvage work is to seal the hole made by the S-4's gun.

The submarine's hull and pump out the boat with compressed air. Commander Harold E. Saunders, submarine construction expert from the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, who will supervise this phase of the work, spent the day and part of tonight studying the interior of the S-4, sister ship of the S-4, which was wrecked in the low visibility on the ocean bottom.

New Attack on Methods. Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(Special.)—Another member of the house naval affairs committee, Representative Ralph Updike (Rep., Ind.), announced today that, when Congress reconvenes next week, he will introduce a resolution demanding a sweeping investigation of the S-4 tragedy and of conditions obtaining throughout the submarine fleet. He charged the navy department with being "grossly negligent" in its failure to equip all submarines with safety devices to protect the crews of such craft against accidents similar to the one which sank the S-4 a week ago and the S-11 several years ago. Demand for a sweeping reorganization of the navy's fleet, starting with the resignation of Secretary W. B. Clark and the placing of a "stronger character" in the place of the now holder, was voiced today by Representative Loring M. Black Jr. in a statement.

OFFICER EXPLAINS WHY MEN COULD NOT ESCAPE S-4

"To open a hatch on a submarine a hundred feet or more under water would require the strength of a jack with sufficient leverage to lift the Tribuna Tower," said Commander A. G. Dibrell, officer in charge of the navy recruiting station. Commander Dibrell commented on the lack of knowledge displayed by landmen since the S-4 disaster. "To the civilian unversed in mechanics or any person unfamiliar with the sea and submarines, some explanation of submarine safety devices is necessary at such a time as this," said Dibrell. "No war vessel is built on the same lines as a pleasure yacht. All safety precautions possible, however, have been tested and employed on submarines if they proved their merit. "There are escape locks on every chamber of a submarine except the battery vault. The entrance of salt water to that chamber would produce a chlorine gas poisonous to the men. When a submarine is submerged over a hundred feet, there is 44 pounds of water pressure on every square inch of the boat's surface. At that depth and under that pressure, safety locks are of no value. The necessary force to lift a hatch under those conditions is too great. "The S-4 weighed 850 tons. Plus the pressure of the water and the added weight of water in the flooded chambers, the boat would weigh approximately 2,000 tons. A misguided eye on the submarine in which a hook might be fastened for lifting purposes is preposterous. By necessity of the weight of the boat, the eye would have to be so constructed that it would necessarily impede the speed of the boat."

Prof. Breasted New Head of American Historical Society. Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(AP)—Dr. James H. Breasted of the University of Chicago has been nominated as president of the American Historical Association, to succeed Dr. Henry Osborn Taylor of New York. The new president of the association will direct a nationwide research program planned to develop the truths of American history.

2 FIREMEN HURT BY EXPLOSION IN RESTAURANT FIRE

(Picture on back page.) An explosion last night in a burning restaurant at 334 West Van Buren street injured two firemen who were caught in a shower of window glass as they were about to enter the building. Chief Edward McCann of the 25th battalion attributed the blast to gas escaping from an open burner. Fireman John Reardon of Engine Company No. 21 was severely cut about the body and his hands and legs were burned. Lieut. John Menahan of Squad No. 1 was cut about the hands. Yesterday afternoon the east wall of a building occupied by the Scott-Peterson Produce company, 4450 Armistage avenue, manufacturers of sausages, collapsed into an excavation. Firemen and police were rushed to the scene but found no one had been injured.

RUSSIAN "BRAIN PANTHEON" GETS FOUNDER'S BRAIN

MOSCOW, Russia, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The "brain pantheon" founded by Prof. Vladimir Bechtereff, noted Russian psychiatrist, for the purpose of studying the source of talent and genius soon will have a fourth brain added to the three already preserved—that of Prof. Bechtereff himself. The noted scientist, who has been devoting much time in recent months to organizing the brain pantheon, which had been approved by the soviet government, died late Saturday from paralysis of the heart after a short illness. The brains already in the collection are those of Anton Rubinstein, the famous pianist and composer, who died in 1894; Dmitri Mendeleev, naturalist and chemist, whose work on periodic law brought him world fame before his death in 1907; and Alexander Kolomi, writer, jurist, and ranking member of the Academy of Sciences, who died last September.

DUVALL'S KLAN PAPER IS PUT IN BANKRUPTCY

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 27.—(Special.)—Affairs of the Indianapolis Post Publishing company, in which John L. Duvall, former Klan supporter mayor, was said to have been interested, were referred today to Carl Wilde, referee in bankruptcy, following an order by Judge Robert C. Ball of the United States District court asserting the company to be bankrupt. In adjudging the publishing company bankrupt, Judge Ball sustained the plaintiffs, the Metals Refining company, the Mergenthaler Linotype Machine company, and the Lanston Monotype Machine company, to strike out the answer of the defendants, which denied bankruptcy. The Post was published as a daily afternoon newspaper for several weeks this summer.

AUTO DEADLIER THAN DISEASE, RECORDS SHOW

Kills More in Illinois
than 7 Maladies.

Automobile accidents have taken more lives in Illinois thus far in 1927 than typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, measles, small pox, and infantile paralysis combined.

These seven diseases have killed 1,620 persons this year while the toll of automobiles for the state is 1,647. The motor death rate has increased 263 per cent in the last eight years whereas the deaths from the diseases are on a decrease, according to the report. More than half of the victims of automobile accidents were pedestrians.

Two deaths yesterday raised Cook county's 1927 motor toll to 987.

An unidentified man, about 35 years old, died in the county hospital a few hours after he was found unconscious on the pavement at Halsted street and Austin avenue, supposedly the victim of a motorist who fled after the accident.

Ebenezer Hutchins, 49, 2222 South Lincoln street, who was injured when the automobile in which he and three others were riding overturned on Halsted street, north of Chicago Heights, on last Sunday, died at St. James hospital, Chicago Heights, without regaining consciousness.

Antone Praepore, 52, of 2332 West 25th street, was knocked down, suffering a fractured skull, after he had shoved his son, Julius, 15, from the path of a speeding automobile in Marshall boulevard near 25th street. The driver did not stop.

John Fink, 39, a salesman, of 119 Home avenue, Oak Park, received internal injuries when his car crashed into a safety island and overturned at Sheridan road and Webster avenue.

Edward McKenna, 34, a city fireman, was arrested on two charges of manslaughter following an inquest into the deaths of Samuel Simon, 8048 St. Lawrence avenue, and his wife, Lena, who were killed Monday in a collision with car driven by McKenna at State and 80th streets.

Stephen Farley, 44, and his son, Joseph, 15, of 3608 Wrightwood avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury when their car was overturned by a fire engine at Diversey and Cicero avenues last night. The boy was uninjured and his father escaped with a bruised left arm. Engine company No. 91 was responding to a call to 4930 Oakdale avenue, which proved to be a false alarm, when the accident occurred.

Miss Pindisnaki and the guard, Joseph Geller, 220 South Western avenue, had just left the store when the bandits leaped from an automobile parked nearby and rushed on them. One of the robbers beat Geller over the head with a revolver while the other snatched a satchel containing the money from the girl.

REPORT REVEALS DRY KILLERS ESCAPE TRIALS

Agents Saved
Federal Intervention.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 27.—(Special.)—Thirteen pending cases in which prohibition agents charged murder or manslaughter from months to two and one-half years ago have thus far escaped trial in a review list of Volstead enforcement stonings made public by the prohibition bureau.

Specifically all of the thirteen cases have been protected from federal prosecutions by the intervention of federal courts, which, acting on appeals filed by United States attorneys, have assumed jurisdiction by writ of habeas corpus writs.

Similar cases throughout the country, has resulted in the ultimate defeat of the agents and the dismissal of the charges against them. As an example of the thirteen pending cases in the list made public by the bureau, the following are cited: Robert Fuller, Knox county, Tenn., On April 30, 1921, Fuller, a Knox county deputy sheriff, assisted Agent Scroggs in a liquor raid and, returning to headquarters, is alleged to have quarreled with Scroggs over disposition of the seized whisky. Fuller, it is reported, shot at Scroggs, who returned the fire, killing the deputy sheriff. No prosecution was ever begun against Scroggs.

Bob Ballard, Lexington, Ky.: On Dec. 15, 1922, Dry Agent Guy E. Cole, searching for illicit stills, approached a farm house occupied by Bob and Charles Ballard. The Ballards, according to prohibition bureau records, opened fire on the agent, who returned it. Bob Ballard was killed, Charles Ballard was wounded, and Agent Cole was instantly killed by a shot through the head.

"Two Are Killed."
Bill Littrell, Pineville, Ky.—On Feb. 22, 1924, Agent Saylor, returning with

BERGER, WITNESS FOR REMUS, SENTENCED TO JAIL, BUT GETS STAY

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 27.—(AP.)—John S. Berger, Los Angeles promoter and friend since boyhood of George Remus, "king of bootleggers," was released tonight on a stay bond after occupying a cell in Hamilton county jail for several hours.

Sentence on the contempt of court charge was pronounced today by Common Pleas Judge Chester B. Shook, in whose court Remus was tried and acquitted of the murder of his wife.

Immediately after Berger was taken to jail his attorney filed proceedings in error in the Court of Appeals, which granted a stay and fixed bond at $1,000. Judge Shook announced that he would pass the motion to quash the indictment on to Judge Dennis J. Ryan of the Criminal court next week.

The perjury indictment against Berger was a result of his testimony in behalf of Remus and the contempt charge was the result of Berger's attempt to have the indictment quashed. Judge Shook today sharply reprimanded the jurors who had acquitted Remus and who today all fled into his court seeking to help Berger in his effort to escape punishment for the contempt charge.

In the resultant exchange of bullets Agent Jackson and Johnnie Garrett were killed. No charges were ever brought against the other agents. Robert Fuller, Knox county, Tenn.: On April 30, 1921, Fuller, a Knox county deputy sheriff, assisted Agent Scroggs in a liquor raid and, returning to headquarters, is alleged to have quarreled with Scroggs over disposition of the seized whisky. Fuller, it is reported, shot at Scroggs, who returned the fire, killing the deputy sheriff. No prosecution was ever begun against Scroggs.

Bob Ballard, Lexington, Ky.: On Dec. 15, 1922, Dry Agent Guy E. Cole, searching for illicit stills, approached a farm house occupied by Bob and Charles Ballard. The Ballards, according to prohibition bureau records, opened fire on the agent, who returned it. Bob Ballard was killed, Charles Ballard was wounded, and Agent Cole was instantly killed by a shot through the head.

four prisoners taken in a liquor raid, undertook to arrest Lloyd Littrell on the highway, charging him with illegal possession of liquor. The latter's father, Bill Littrell, a magistrate of the district, demanded his son's release for trial in Tennessee. Saylor declared he proposed to turn young Littrell over to federal prohibition authorities in Virginia for trial in that state and a gun fight followed in which the older Littrell and Saylor were killed and Lloyd and John Littrell were wounded.

The other cases now reported by the bureau include the following: Arthur Hood, Victoria, Va.—On Feb. 18, 1923, Dry Agents H. M. Shugart and H. H. Parkins assisted the county sheriff in a raid on an alleged distilling plant. The raid was resisted and in the ensuing battle Shugart was wounded but managed to return to the killing Hood. No prosecution of Shugart is recorded.

Field "Justifiable Homicide."
J. A. Brinson, M. P. Merritt, and Clyde Parrish, Miami, Fla.—On Aug. 5, 1926, Dry Agents W. M. Simmons, C. P. Standau, A. C. Olyhan, and J. H. Shiley, returning to Miami after a search for stills, were attacked, according to prohibition bureau records, by a party of men who opened fire on their car. The agents returned the fire, killing Brinson, Merritt, and Parrish. A coroner's jury held the killings to have been "justifiable homicide" committed by the agents in "self-defense" and "in line of duty."

Aigle Carrier, Amite, La.—On Jan. 6, 1927, Dry Agents Pat M. Needham and John Elliott raided a still, and surprised Carrier operating it. They were found guilty of involuntary manslaughter and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 in addition to the costs of both trials.

Runs Down Boy.
Burrell Morris, Berkeley, Cal.—On Nov. 23, 1924, Dry Agents George S. Wentworth and D. D. Mangan arrested Morris in the act, they asserted, of delivering a load of liquor. Morris was placed in an automobile between the two agents and started for a police station. An altercation arose. All drew guns and in the fight Wentworth received wounds which caused his death the next day and Morris was killed instantly. No charges were ever brought against Agent Mangan. Another of the new cases reported by the prohibition bureau involves a colored dry agent, Albert C. Collins, who was convicted of murder as a result of running down and killing a boy, Peter Lapicella, in a Cleveland, O., street on Sept. 11, 1926. Collins was charged by eyewitnesses with having been driving at high rate of speed when he struck the boy, yet the state court charges against him were removed to a federal court. Subsequently he was convicted and sentenced to serve not less than five years nor more than twenty years in the state penitentiary.

Fined for Manslaughter.
One of the cases listed in The Tribune's Sept. 28 compilation as pending, and which since has resulted in the conviction of the killing agent, is also one in which the agent was accused of killing a citizen while driving an automobile at a high rate of speed in pursuit of a liquor law violator.

The agent, Mack B. Lilly, patrolling the highway near Huntington, W. Va., on Oct. 25, 1926, pursued a suspected rum runner, and while attempting to pass a truck in the road at high speed, struck and killed F. M. Ferguson, who was crossing the road. Lilly was charged with murder in the state court, but the United States attorney for the district had the case removed to the federal court. The first trial of the charge resulted in a disagreement of the jury but in a second trial, which ended on Oct. 5, 1927, Lilly was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 in addition to the costs of both trials.

Police Investigate Fatal Shooting in Drug Store

Police last night were investigating that shooting to death of an unidentified Negro, supposedly a bandit, in the drug store of Harry Halperin, 558 East 4th street. Halperin was arrested and taken to Wabash avenue station pending action of a coroner's jury today. Halperin said he had grabbed a gun from beneath a counter and fired at the Negro when the latter acted as if he was about to draw a weapon and shouted "Stick 'em up." The dead man was found unarmed.

NURSE REFUSES OATH TO U. S.; LOSES CITY JOB

Canadian Woman Ousted from Hospital.

Because Miss Margaret Barrie, a Canadian subject, refused to become a citizen of the United States, she lost her job as a nurse at the Chicago municipal contagious disease hospital, 3026 South California avenue, it was revealed yesterday.

City hall reports after the disclosure were to the effect that Mayor Thompson had ordered the discharge of all Britishers in the city's service as a part of his campaign against King George propaganda. An investigation, however, indicated that no such order had been issued and that Miss Barrie's dismissal was due to the action of former Health Commissioner Herman N. Hunsden.

Hunsden Explains Action.

"It is true that my policy was to employ Americans in preference to aliens, other things being equal," Dr. Hunsden said last night. "I feel that American taxpayers' money should not be used to pay salaries to foreigners except in unusual cases."

Miss Barrie was ousted and returned to Canada a month ago. The story of her dismissal came from her brother, Nicholas J. Barrie of Ottawa, Ont., who told reporters that his sister, although she liked the hospital and had made a good record, was too proud to bow to a mandate forcing her to for-

WEDDINGS DROP OFF AS DIVORCES INCREASE IN 1927

There have been fewer marriages and more divorces during 1927 than during the previous year, according to annual reports made public yesterday.

Since the first of January 40,978 marriage licenses have been issued, and Louis E. Legner, chief clerk of the license bureau, estimated that the total for 1927 will reach 40,000. This would be less than any previous annual total since 1923. The figure for 1926 was 42,323. Mr. Legner blamed unemployment for the slump.

Clerk Samuel E. Erickson of the superior court reported 7,950 divorce cases filed during the year, a slight decrease from the 8,666 of 1926, but Clerk Thomas Wallace of the Circuit court reported an increase from 4,000 divorce cases in 1926 to 5,000 started so far during 1927.

make her allegiance to the Union Jack. She did valiant service as a war nurse, he said, and was deeply distressed by her Chicago experience.

Kesel Verifies Report.

Health Commissioner A. H. Kegel, Dr. Hunsden's successor, refused to believe the report of Miss Barrie's ouster until he verified it with Dr. Archibald Hayne, superintendent of the hospital, who produced his correspondence with Dr. Hunsden.

On Nov. 16 Dr. Hayne, at the former commissioner's request, informed him that six of his graduate nurses were not American citizens. They were: Miss Barrie, Lulu Noble, Margaret Marks, Elva McDonald, Marie Madden, and Benecht Specht, the first four Canadians. All but the Misses Barrie, Noble, and Marks had started to take out naturalization papers or signified their intention to do so. Later apparently it was Miss Barrie alone who balked.

Chicago's school board is too busy with its new committee to bother with any more school politics, J. Lewis, president of the board of education, said yesterday in reply to the committee's plan to lift the smoke screen behind the McAndrew trial.

"The board is too busy with its new committee, organized recently, to take a score of civil organizations and is pledged to arouse a mill of public spirit that eventually will lift the politicians out of the school system."

KING'S BROTHER DICKERS FOR U. S. LOAN TO TURKEY

[Chicago Tribune Staff Service.]
BERLIN, Dec. 27.—Don Luis Bourbon, half brother of King Alfonso of Spain, is in Berlin in behalf of the American firm of Redmond & Co., preparing for a New York loan to Turkey for the construction of strategic new railroads, and for a $5,000,000 loan to the Greek ministry of finance.

Don Luis, who is an exile from Spain, was interested last year in politics and sailed for New York to find backers for a possible Lithuanian monarchy, for which he had negotiated with Marshal Josef Pilsudski of Poland. But his American trip convinced the Bourbon prince that the days of Lithuanian and other monarchies are over, and he enlisted as an emissary of American finance.

As such, Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish president, invited him to Ankara.

Turkey's dictator requests Redmond & Co. to advance funds to complete the railroad line from Samsum, which so far only has reached Amasia. Kemal also wants an offer for the construction of railroad lines from Rionish to An-

KILLS WIFE, THEN GOES TO BED AND SLEEPS SOUNDLY

CRIMINAL COURT.
Joseph Paul, 34, of 108 South Hoyne avenue, confessed yesterday that he shot and killed his wife in their home Monday night. He told the police at the Marquette station how he went to bed with his four-year-old boy, Elmer, after he was certain his wife was dead, and slept soundly until late in the morning.

His wife, Emilio said, had threatened to stab him with an Italian army knife, and in self-defense, according to his story, he fired three shots into her head. Elmer, the little boy, who witnessed the murder, told neighbors about it and they notified the police. Elmer was taken to the Juvenile Detention home.

Castiglioni is 43 years old and his wife was 40. They had been married six years.

LOCAL PRESSURE DEPRESSES CORN TO YEAR'S LOWS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

December and March corn sold at a new low on the crop, and the May equalled the inside figure of the season as the result of local and commission pressure yesterday. The decline brought in good support, and toward the last there was short covering and a rally of 1/4¢ from the inside figure, with net gains of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, with December 1 1/4¢, and May 8 3/4¢ to 9 1/4¢. Wheat held within a range of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, with the finish unchanged to 1/4¢ higher, the latter on December, which finished at $1.25 1/2, with May at $1.25 1/2 to 1/4¢. Oats were 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher, the former on December, which broke sharply on scattered liquidation. Rye lost 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. Receipts of corn were decidedly liberal, with 735 cars received here and the basis in the sample market was unchanged to be lower. Missouri river points also had good arrivals, but country offerings were small, and there was relatively little pressure of cash grain. The visible supply increased 2,855,000 bu for the week, and is 23,214,000 bu against 23,174,000 bu last year.

Local sell Corn Early.
A good part of the early pressure on corn came from local operators, but many of them who sold under 80¢ for May were good buyers above that figure when the market started upward, and offerings were light.
There was little in the general run of the news to account for the early selling aside from the larger receipts. Forecasts for unsettled weather over the entire grain belt. Excesses above closed the lower with receipts unchanged to be lower. There were intimations of export business at the port, but quantities were not given and some bids as much as 20¢ out of line. Holdings on the coast and in the United Kingdom tended to check business.
Outside interest in wheat was light, with the December declining early on scattered liquidation, only to rally sharply when buying orders appeared. Liverpool was close and there was little in the news to induce traders to operate with any degree of activity. Buenos Aires closed unchanged to be lower and Rosario unchanged.
Export demand at the seaboard was slow with no sales of consequence reported. Visible supply of wheat decreased 1,200,000 bu, and is 87,613,000 bu against 84,970,000 bu last year.

December Oats Weakens.
Liquidation developed in December oats with a break to 50¢ or 1/2¢ under Saturday's finish, some stop loss orders being caught on the way down. Offerings were light when buying orders appeared, and part of the loss was recovered. Deferred deliveries were taken by commission houses and showed a firm undertone. There was selling of 770 against purchases of wheat and corn which had a depressing effect.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

A Gallant Lad.

Two girl chums and I went to a neighboring city to see a football game between our college and our rival there. We stayed at the home of a girl friend Saturday night. Jane had a date for a dance, but Ruth and I, being less fortunate, went to a show. We were anxious to see the young man, so we waited up. He and Jane stopped on the front porch in the moonlight, so Ruth and I crept to the door through the darkened room. As they edged toward the door, Ruth fled, but I, thinking she would leave him on the porch, remained at the post.

Jane quite suddenly reached for the door and I drew back against the wall, afraid to run. As the door swung back, the knob thumped to the floor. Terrified, I crouched behind the half open door, praying they would forget the knob. But no; he was a gallant young man—and I became aware of a movement close to me. Jane very obligingly switched the light on and there before me on all fours was the young man, his nose scarcely a foot from mine. I forgot all about wanting to see him and with a yell that sent him over backwards I fled to the other room.

THROGS ATTEND LAST RITES FOR CHARLES W. GRAY

Friends in All Walks of Life Pay Him Tribute.

The life story of Charles W. Gray was plainly written in the faces of the many who attended his burial rites yesterday.

At the time of his death, on Christmas day, when he fell from his horse in Jackson park, Mr. Gray was the president of the Yellow Cab company, and a wealthy man.

Honoring him there came to his bier many prominent men and many women of high position. Bankers, lawyers, capitalists, members of officialdom—many of these sat in the dignified, high pillared Bryn Mawr Community church, at Jeffery avenue and 79th street.

All classes mourn him.

Shoulder to shoulder with them were another people. These came lamenting the passing of another of their comrades in toil and humble station. They knew him as Charlie Gray, as Charlie the newsboy, and as Charlie the cab driver. They came in such number because he had not forgotten nor neglected them when good fortune was his—because he was still and always wanted to be to them—just Charlie Gray.

And all these sat together in the crowded church, with barriers of wealth and station melted in the warmth of the friendship each one held for the man who had died.

Such was the picture of the life of Charles W. Gray as seen in the faces and the bearing of those who came to his funeral.

Another Throng Outside Church.

Outside was another throng of those who had been unable to crowd within the church. Hundreds of people, hundreds, standing silent while the service was read inside, were no different from the ones within. Rich and poor stood in the chilly air—there had been no discrimination of classes while the church was being filled, and those who came first had been admitted first.

Still another tribute was paid Mr. Gray. At the hour of the service, 3 o'clock, each of the 3,000 taxicabs running on the city streets was turned to the curbing and was halted for two minutes, in silent recognition of the passing of the company's leader.

Mass of Floral Tributes.

Flowers literally buried the portals and the altar of the church, beneath which the casket lay. The finest of the floral pieces were those from Mr. Gray's employees. One piece was marked, "To Our Pal—Boys of the 614 Street Garage," another was "To Our Chief—Boys of the Fulton Garage," and so on.

There was a wreath from the men of the south park police force, who had reason to remember the beneficence of Mr. Gray, and others from his thousands of friends.

Noted among those who attended the service were most of Mr. Gray's business associates and friends. Edward J. Kelly, Anton J. Cernak, George F. Barrett, Charles V. Barrett, Judge Harry Olson, Robert M. Sweetser, Chief of Police Michael Hughes, Dr. James Whitney Hall, Robert M. Levy, Timothy J. Crowe, Morgan A. Collins, Arthur Seydewitz, Ald. John Coughlin, John F. Tyrrell, James I. McCarthy, Dan Ryan, and Judge Francis Borrell.

An eulogy of Mr. Gray, telling of the friendship he had among all classes of men and women, was given by the Rev. M. Russell Boynton. Members of Mr. Gray's Monday lodge performed the rights of their order, and accompanied the body to Oakwood cemetery.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Wednesday, Dec. 28.)

W-G-N Will Broadcast New Year's Music Tonight

POPULAR music and entertainment make up the program tonight from W-G-N, The Chicago Tribune station, on the Drake hotel. The outstanding star of the evening will be Flavia Flanica, a young Mexican baritone, who will be heard between 8 and 10 o'clock in a group of his best known songs. These will include Mexican folk tunes, a number of popular ballads, and a classical selection or two. He will be accompanied by the W-G-N studio ensemble.

The novelty hour, to be heard between 8 and 10 o'clock, will be designed in part to help usher in the new year. Among the melodies to be heard will be "A New Year's Party," "Ring Out Wild Bells," "A Game of Tag," "Agnus Dei," and "The Chimes of Notre Dame." Some of these will be orchestrated selections, and others among them will also be sung by the male quartet heard during this program.

Lyon & Healy melody time tonight between 10 and 11 o'clock, by the Washburn trio, under the direction of Henry Dixon, will again include the Hawaiian melodies. The trio is composed of Hawaiian and Spanish guitars and a ukulele. Among the tunes to be heard are "O'er Southern Sea," "Honolulu Blues," and "The Chimes of Notre Dame." The latter, a love song, to be played as a guitar solo by August Plada.

Alma Jones, violinist, is leading this week's Lyon & Healy retail recital, between 10 and 11 o'clock each afternoon. Miss Jones is one of the younger Chicago violinists who is making a name for herself with outstanding concert work. Included in her program are "Bulgarian Rhapsody" by Wladimir, and "Kreutzer's arrangement of Lehar's 'Frauquita.'" She will be heard every day this week.

Other afternoon music of interest will be heard from W-G-N today. Between 3 and 4 o'clock the Marshall Field team orchestra will entertain, to be followed until 4:30 by a half hour piano recital by Edward Barry. The Marshall Field team orchestra will be heard between 4:30 and 5 o'clock. At 5:40 the Opera Club orchestra, under the direction of Spike Hamilton, will be heard.
